Global Legal Professionals is an international network of globally accredited professionals specializing in the delivery of world class professional services to its clients.

The network is accredited by the relevant regulatory bodies and provides its members with (inter alia) advertising and advertising discounts, access to our database of approximately 5,000 professionals, regular mail shots, referral work, copies of standard legal documents, newsletters, updates and copies of frequently asked questions and answers.

There are no contracts to lock you in, no notice periods and no referral fees!

We are currently working on a proposal with all the major (and smaller new!) banks, to put together a document that would enable all the associated firms with GLP to be listed on their panels.

Some information about me:

I did a BCom (Law) and then an LLB at The Rand Afrikaans University Of South Africa.

I then did my articles at Livingstone Crichton Attorneys in Sandton, South Africa and after becoming admitted as an attorney in South Africa, I moved to London.

I lived in London for 3 years and worked in the commercial property department of a major London law firm, Russell-Cooke Solicitors.

While working for Russell-Cooke, I did the Qualified Lawyers Transfer Test and am now qualified in the UK as well.

While in London, I became a member of various networks and a committee member of the South African Business Club in London.

I left London at the end of 2007 and came back to South Africa.

I started working for Absa Corporate & Business Bank (a member of the Barclays Group) in their Property Investment Division of their Commercial Property Finance Department.

We put equity into property deals worth hundreds of millions and sometimes billions of rands.

One of the reasons they hired me was because they were doing international work and I could advise them on both SA and English law.

I recently resigned from Absa to start Brockwell-Watson Attorneys in South Africa and Global Legal Professionals and Global Property Lawyers Ltd in London.

I really believe this is the way the future is going!

Please let me know if you need any additional information.
